

CONTRACTS LET FOR NEW SCHOOL

General Contract, Indiana State Library
Construction Co., of Shelby
for $60,798

WILL START WORK AT ONCE

Heating and Plumbing Contract to be Decided Monday—Connors-ville Firm Gets Electrical Work

Contracts for general construction and the electrical work of the physical education and vocational school building to be erected this fall, were awarded late Friday afternoon, and a final decision on the award for the heating and plumbing will be reached Monday evening.

The contract for the general construction work went to the Shelby Construction company of Shelbyville for $60,798 and the electrical contract to the Lucas-Tingle company of Connorsville for $973.

The representative of the successful bidder on the general contract said that his firm was ready to go to work as soon as the contract was signed and that he believed the building could be completed by the middle of December.

The low bidder on the heating and plumbing work was the Hoosier Plumbing and Heating company of Shelbyville at $10,900, but on account of wide variance in bids, it was decided to give this part of the contract further consideration before making the award.

The next to the low bid was $12,450, submitted by Rollin M. Cottin of Indianapolis, which represented a difference of $1,550, and the third low was $12,590, by Beale Brothers of this city. All of the bidders, except Beale Brothers, bid separately on the plumbing and heating, and then made a combined bid.

The bids were opened by members of the Rushville school board in the presence of the bidders and the directors of the Rushville Athletic association, which is cooperating with the school city in the erection of a building, which will be used for a gymnasium as well as a physical education and vocational building. The school trustees consulted with the directors of the association in awarding the contracts.

TENTATIVE DATE SET FOR STEPHENSON TRIAL

October 12 is Selected by Judge Sparks After Conference With Attorneys in Noblesville

ANOTHER TRIAL MAY DELAY IT

Noblesville, Ind., Aug. 22—(AP)—Trial of D. C. Stephenson and his two henchmen, Earl Klenck and Earl Century, was tentatively set today for October 12 in Hamilton county court.

The three men are held in jail here on an indictment charging them with murder for the death of Miss Madge Oberholzer of Indianapolis.

The date was set by Judge Will M. Sparks of Rushville, special judge in the case, after a conference with Judge Fred Hines of the Hamilton county court and attorneys in the case.

Eph Inman, chief defense attorney, said the date would be satisfactory to him. Judge Hines said the only possibility of delay in the Stephenson trial would be brought through a demand by Edward Prater, Indianapolis youth charged with murder, for trial before Stephenson. Judge Hines said, Prater would be given trial first if he wanted it.

Whether or not the three defendants will go on trial together on October 12, or will seek separate trials, is not known at this time. The defendants have a right under the law to ask for separate trial. This right was sought when Judge Hines held jurisdiction in the case and brought about a deadlock between state and defense attorneys.

ANNEXATION TALK IS BEING HEARD

Plan of Taking in Territory Just South of Rushville This Fall is Revived

WOULD BE OF MUTUAL BENEFIT

Would Provide Suburb with Water, Light, Sewer and Police and Fire Protection

The plan of annexing the territory just south of Rushville, known as Circleville, and including it as a corporate limits of Rushville, is being considered, and an ordinance calling for the annexation of the territory, may be introduced this fall.

The corporation line of the city has been frequently extended to the north and west, and if Circleville is annexed to the city, it will extend the line south, and give Rushville a much larger area.

Several former city administrations have considered the plan of taking Circleville, but it never materialized, and some people are of the belief that the time is now best suited, and would provide mutual benefits to both communities.

By annexing Circleville, it would provide the community with police and fire protection. This protection could be provided the new territory, it was pointed out, without any additional expense, as both departments are provided with sufficient means to take care of the situation.

In case of fire, hose lines could be laid from the river, or for a small cost a reservoir could be built to give ample water supply for the 25 or 30 dwellings that are now located in the area.

The city has a fire alarm box that could be made available for the suburb, and it would also be only a short time until water and sewer service would be extended into the territory. The city now provides electricity to many homes in Circleville, and would add street lights as soon as the annexation was assured.

If the suburb becomes a part of Rushville, it would also entitle them to city letter carrier service with mail delivery twice a day, it was pointed out.

Circleville is now platted into streets and lots, which system would automatically be carried out, it is understood, and no change made.

The annexation would include all of the territory known as Circleville, if the plan goes through, which would increase the population of Rushville, and also add some to the valuation of the property. The value of real estate in Circleville would also be on a level with the real estate in Rushville. (Continued on Page Six)

CLASS IN ARITHMETIC WILL PLEASE COME TO ORDER

MORE THAN 1,000 TO BE AT PICNIC

Club Boys and Girls and Their Parents to Attend Annual Roundup at Memorial Park

THREE CONTESTS SCHEDULED

Picnic Dinner Will be Served at Noon and Barton Rees Pogue Will Speak in Afternoon

More than one thousand boys and girls and their parents are expected at Memorial park here next Tuesday when the annual Rush county boys' and girls' club roundup will be held. No stones have been left unturned by the four committees in charge of the plans for the picnic.

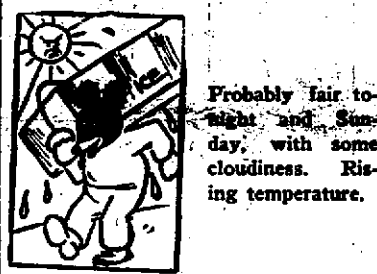

Early last April the Indiana Farmers' Guide made it known that Barton Rees Pogue would be available for a number of county farm picnics. The committee from this county immediately got in touch with the Guide and requested that Mr. Pogue be sent to Rushville Tuesday, August 25, and the local date was given.

The program will start promptly at 10:00 a. m. It is therefore suggested that club members and their parents be on hand at 9:45. Beginning at 10 o'clock there will be a horseshoe pitching contest. Each township boys corn club will select two of their members to represent their township in this contest. The committee in charge consists of Orville Brooks, Harry Leisure and Clyde Archey. The boys representing their townships are requested to bring their horseshoes and stakes.

At 10:15 the hog calling contest will start. Every boy in club work in Rush county can take part in this contest. John Hufferd, George Ertel and Walter Norris are working out the details. Many are wondering what corner of the county will produce this champion.

At 11:30 a. m. two girls from each of the two clubs will represent their respective townships in a potato peeling contest. The contest is being arranged for by Mrs. Oscar Rees, Mrs. Floyd Reddick and Mrs. Alva Cole. Each of the two girls from the different townships is requested to bring a pan, knife and 6 medium size potatoes. A big picnic dinner will be served at noon and after dinner Mr. Pogue will read some of his poems and present a four-act playlet.

Key to the Weather

Everything was in readiness for the annual Rush County Teachers' institute, which will be in session, next week, according to B. D. Farthing, county school superintendent, who is in charge of arrangements and of the program that has been completed.

The sessions will open Monday morning in the assembly room of the court house. The afternoon session will begin at 1:15. J. H. Scholl, formerly of this city, but now superintendent at Milton, will be among the speakers, and Dr. Morris and Miss Davis will also appear for further courses of instruction.

WATSON URGES A BIG TAX CUTTING

Says Reduction of $250,000,000 by Next Session of Congress Could be Brought About

ADDRESS AT COLUMBIA CLUB

Declares Automobile Tax Should be Lifted and Also the Many "Nuisance" Taxes

Indianapolis, Aug. 22—(AP)—Tax reduction of not less than $250,000,000 by the next session of congress was urged by Senator James E. Watson in an address here last night.

Watson was one of the speakers at the Founders' Day banquet of the Indiana council of the National Republican Constructive League at the Columbia Club.

"The next congress should repeal the tax on automobiles, of which there is one for every seven persons in America," Watson said. "These taxes constitute a real burden on the body of the people."

"Congress should repeal all of the nuisance taxes which enter into the great majority of our homes and directly add to the cost of living."

"It should reduce the maximum normal tax to five per cent and the maximum surtax to fifteen per cent, so as to call out all idle capital and invest it in industry and commerce."

"It should reduce taxes by not less than $250,000,000."

"The expense of running the government is about as low as is possible without complete reorganization of the departments of our government, and that cannot be immediately effected."

"Hence, the only way to reduce taxes is to pay off the debt and get rid of the interest, which amounts to $870,000,000 a year though four years ago it ran up to $1,100,000,000."

More than 900 persons attended the founders' day banquet of the Indiana council of the National Republican Constructive League.

Albert J. Beveridge, former senator, George B. Lockwood, founder of the league, in addition to Senator Watson and other speakers emphasized the need for the Republican party to guard the government against radicals seeking a change in the fundamentals of the constitution.

"We must take no chance of being inoculated with the political disease of Europe," Lockwood said in conclusion. (Continued on Page Six)

SUES HIS WIFE FOR A DIVORCE

Holman Gildewell Says Anna Gildewell
Accused Him Falsely

A complaint for divorce was filed this morning in the circuit court by Holman Gildewell of Milroy against Anna Gildewell, the action alleging cruel treatment.

The couple was married, according to the complaint, on May 25, 1924, and separated February 19, of this year. A month after their marriage, the complaint charges the defendant with cursing him, and told him that she didn't care for him any longer. He says that she was quarrelsome and went for days without speaking to him, and that when he was seriously ill last November, she accused him falsely of being intimate with other women.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 22—(AP)—Early delegates from Hoosier posts of the American Legion were arriving here today for the seventh annual state convention of the ex-service men's organization.

Arrangements have been completed by the local entertainment committee to care for 5,000 visitors during the convention.

"We believe this convention will be the biggest state meeting the Legion has ever had" said State Adjutant Henley. "Everything is ready for the opening day."

Registration will start Sunday morning at convention headquarters at the Hotel Anthony and the visiting ex-service men will be provided transportation to the Elks' Country club for an all day Sunday picnic.

An address by James A. Drain, national commander of the Legion, will be the feature of the afternoon program of the picnic.

Twenty-five government aeroplanes representing an aerial circus are to perform thrilling stunts following Commander Drain's address.

Horse shoe, volley ball, baseball and band concerts are also on the program for the picnic.

The convention proper will open Monday morning with an address of welcome by Mayor W. J. Hosey of Fort Wayne, and Albert Schaaf, president of the Fort Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

Tom McCannel, state commander, will respond for the Legion, after which business affairs will be taken up by the convention.

Eight bands and ten drum corps will furnish music for the annual parade Monday afternoon while two machine guns furnished by the government will fire rounds of ammunition as the veterans march through the business streets of Fort Wayne.

Legion officials are asking as many of the veterans as possible to wear their uniforms for the parade.

Street dancing and the "grand state train wreck" of the "Forty and Eight," an auxiliary of the Legion, will be featured. (Continued on Page Six)

AWARDS ON PLANT SYSTEM

Thursday Was Visited
Scores of Rush County Parents

Rush county boys and girls' club campers were back home today, following the close of the annual tri-county camp at Walnut Grove, northwest of Shelbyville.

Two hundred and eighteen young people from Rush, Shelby and DeCATUR counties were enrolled. There were also about thirty chaperons. Thursday was visitors day, and a large number of parents visited the camp.

Helen Wissing of Walker township, Rush county, who won fame as state canning queen, added to her laurels by piling up the highest number of points accredited to any girl camper. She and Gibson Gray and Beryl Rhodes were designated as the star campers. Miss Wissing had 726 points to her credit.

Herschel VanMatre, county agricultural agent, and E. E. Privett, vocational agriculture teacher in the Rushville high school, two of the leaders at the camp, arrived home late Friday night after officially closing the camp. All of the equipment had to be removed Friday afternoon.

The camp was voted one of the most successful affairs of the kind held in this county. All of the boys and girls, regardless of age, enjoyed the schedule that had been arranged for them. The class work, in charge of competent instructors, was given in such a way, as to hold the interest of the young people.

Thursday night there were a number of visitors at the camp, including the parents of a number of members of the camping party. The young people gave a fine program about a large camp fire during the evening.

Awards of camp honors was one of the interesting features of the closing day of the camp. Among the boys Gibson Gray won first place, with a total of 825 points. He was a member of the Miami tribe. James Copeland, of the Delawares, was second with 665 points, and Inlow John, of the Blackfeet, was third, with a score of 482 points.

Helen Wissing was a member of the tribe of Blackhaws. Beryl Rhodes was second with 665 points. She was a member of the Creek tribe. (Continued on Page Three)

RUSHVILLE BOOSTERS AT MILROY MEETING

Approximately Fifty People Attend
Monthly Session of Anderson
Township Farm Bureau

LOCAL MEN ARE SPEAKERS

Between forty and fifty Rushville boosters attended the regular monthly meeting of the Anderson Township Farm Bureau at Milroy Friday evening and gave a program of music and readings.

Omer Trusler presided at the meeting, following a short business session of the farm bureau, and led the audience in community singing. Clyde Archey, township chairman of the farm bureau, took charge of the bureau meeting.

Short talks were made by Hugh E. Mauzy, president of the Rushville Boosters club, Will O. Fendner, Mr. Trusler and A. M. Taylor, who formerly taught school at Milroy.

The Boosters quartet was very popular with the audience, and solos by Mrs. C. E. Walden and a duet by Mrs. Walden and O. P. Wamsley were warmly applauded. Mrs. Herschel VanMatre played the piano accompaniments.

An original monologue by Mrs. Curt Hester literally "brought down the house" and she was vigorously applauded.

The meeting was held in the school auditorium and refreshments were served after the program was concluded.

ance that has been quietly developing in Washington during the past few months under the leadership of a well known Indianan, George B. Lockwood, publisher of the Muncie, Ind., Evening Press and the National Republic of Washington, made its first public appearance at a state-wide dinner which opened the fine new Columbia Club at Indianapolis Friday evening.This is the National Republican Constructive League, an organization which will carry on a nationwide campaign for constructive and combating all subversive movements such as communism and socialism. A site one hundred and twenty feet square facing the national capitol has been purchased, and it is proposed to erect there a monumental structure which will be the center of educational activities and a national headquarters for members of the League throughout the country.It will house not only the offices of the organization, but an extensive library and research department and an auditorium in which addresses will be delivered weekly by men prominent in public life on fundamental public questions, whence they will be broadcasted throughout the country. The plan has been submitted to many of the most prominent men in the country who are interested in national stability and progress and they have pronounced the organization a necessity as a means of neutralizing the activities of the numerous organizations engaged in destructive radical propaganda.The home state of Indiana, Mr.
Lockwood, was chosen as the field for the first launching of the League's campaign, and already much progress has been made without publicity in enlisting interest in the movement. To those familiar with the activities of radical elements the need of such an undertaking is apparent, and it is believed that within a few months the League will be an organization to be reckoned with nationally.It is announced that the organization will have nothing to do with candidates or factional politics, but is intended as a unifying force for all elements which can stand on the common ground of defense of constructive principles and policies in harmony with the American constitutional form of government.Decline in VotingThe United States no longer holds the world's voting record. About forty years ago eighty percent of the citizens went to the polls and voted. This percentage gave us the lead. In 1920 and 1924 only about fifty percent of the American voters exercised the right of franchise. Consequently the United States flopped down to the tail in the list of voting nations. In the 1924 election in the House of Commons in Great Britain seventy-six percent of the electorate exercised the right to vote, the right for which we fought Great Britain in 1776.In the first election under the institution of the German Republic seventy-five percent of all Germans, twenty years of age and over,voted, and in 1924 the percentage reached a total of eighty percent and in the recent presidential election in April of this year the percentage reached a total of eighty-two percent.The Australian average for twenty years show that about seventy-five percent of the electorate vote;
while New Zealand ran eighty percent. In the recent elections of 1923-24 New Zealand and Queensland produced a record of nearly eighty-four percent. Denmark, Belgium and Holland ranged from sixty to ninety-two percent, according to the election, their general average being about seventy-five percent. France votes seventy percent, owing to the electorate—that is, on the average, some districts make even a higher rating. Sweden and Norway run Belgium and Denmark a close second. In the recent election in Italy about sixty-four percent of the voting population of men and women voted. Switzerland has a record of seventy-six percent. Our neighbors to the north, the Canadians, have a voting average of about seventy percent, while Cuba, just across the water from Florida, makes twice as good a showing as the Everglade
State.FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAYFrom Daily Republican Tuesday, Aug. 23, 1910It is probable that the second annual reunion of the Norris family, which will be held at the Rush county fair grounds tomorrow, will bring together a collection of men who have gained prominence in the political world, one of them especially since the recent formation of the so-called insurgents. George William Norris, congressman from the fifth district in Nebraska, has been invited and is expected to attend. Edwin Norris, governor of Montana, has also been asked to attend.Judge W. A. Cullen had a slight fainting spell at his farm, west of the city this afternoon and his condition caused some alarm for a time.That an effort will be made to build a coliseum for the chautauqua and for the purpose of holding public meetings in general, is evidenced by the fact that steps were taken in that direction at the meeting of the directors of the chautauqua association in the court house last night.
A committee was appointed by the chair which will investigate the cost.Judge Sparks and family of Rushville and Jesse Henley and family

NEA Service WriterWASHINGTON—The Democrats' fight on the Republicans' tax reduction program next winter won't be against reduction, but against the kind of reduction—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's kind—that it's considered certain the Republicans will advocate.It wouldn't do to oppose reduction. That's bound to be popular with everybody. The party that fought it would be doing the worst thing imaginable for itself.On the other hand, the Democrats figure it will be extremely popular to oppose reduction of a sort that will benefit mainly very rich men and big corporations.THAT Secretary Mellon wants reduction to begin at the top this time there isn't any question. He's outspoken about it.
He's willing to let the small fry have a little of the gravy buthe wants the big helping to go to the tax-payers.
He was eulogized out of having his way last year but it appears to be generally agreed among the Republican managers that he's to have his turn at the next session of Congress—provided, of course, they're able to give it to him.IT'S no cinch that they will be able to. They probably can manage it in the House of Representatives, but the Senate's opinion—more than doubtful.
The Democrats will be against the Mellon plan and so will most of the insurgents—not only the chronic insurgents but also the occasional ones.To summarize, tax reduction will be talked about endlessly
at the next session of Congress, but it's quite among the possibilities that there'll be no actual reduction—that the puzzle will be left for the seventieth Congress to find the answer to.The Hodge Podge

Jack Hoxie PictureThe American Indian has found a modern champion in Isadore Bernstein, noted scenario writer. For years Bernstein has been a close student of American history in its relation to the Indian and the treatment he has received from the hands of the white brothers. The result of this has been a powerful story of "The Red Rider" which has been adapted to the screen by Wyndham Gittens under the same name. Universal has produced this remarkable picture and its next Blue Streak Western, offering starring Jack Hoxie to be seen at the Castle theatre today.The story, beginning in the days when the Indian ruled America, shows the inroads of degeneracy in the Red Man that followed the coming of the whites. Bernstein shows the early traders receiving large pic-ces of land and other valuable concessions in return for "firewater" which gradually worn down the physical and moral fibre of the Indian.
The author has brought into his story a pretty little romance, the picturesqueness of the Indians and his ceremonies and traditions all of which combined with many thrilling scenes have been faithfully reproduced on the screen.Constance Talmadge, StarConstance Talmadge was sur-

knock-em-dead shirts and jazz hounds and their chickens.In the midst of it all Constance banged away at a piano, while Jack Mulhall, on the elevated stage with her, back and wings and does his soft shoe song and dance.Constance and Jack had a wild time of it while the Coney Island sequence was being shot by Director Jerome Storm. And Storm was out in all his glory. For the occasion he resumed the use of his megaphone and joined in the shouting and yell-

READY FOR SUNDAY INVASION CARTRIDGE, RALEIGH TO PLAY

Tail Lights Will Meet Chrysler-Maxwells on the Local Lot

The Rushville Tail Light ball club is all set for the invasion of the Newcastle Chrysler-Maxwells on the local lot Sunday. The local team has been practicing all week to throw off the jinx that was with them last Sunday at Batesville. The local men this week have been "busting the fences" and the Newcastle fielders will be given a real workout tomorrow.

The fielding of the locals this week has been like the kind that was given against the Summitville, Taylor A. B. C., New Palestine, Milton and others that the locals trimmed. It looks like a big day for Rushville tomorrow and everything is all set for the game which will be called at 2:30 on the third street diamonds.

Bath Are in Good Trim and Class Game is Anticipated

The Carthage Specials, who defeated the Westwood Cubs of Newcastle 11 to 9 last Sunday, will hook up with the Raleigh team at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at Raleigh.

The Raleigh team in its last game won from the Rose City Red Sox, a colored team of Newcastle, 6 to 5, and has acquired the services of Hickman, Lane and Dishman of Lewisville. The Specials also play at Arlington on August 30.

NEW COOK LEFT WITH RING

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 22—Mrs. Homer Gregory found a new colored cook in her kitchen when she returned from a trip to the grocery store. The cook apologized and said she got in the wrong house and left. With her went a valuable diamond ring and a watch.

Great Season in Prospect

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 22—Thumps of youthful toes against a football will be heard soon on many fields in many places as the 1925 crop of prospective gridiron heroes begin to get ready for what should be a most unusual season.

Inter-sectional competition has been largely responsible for the extraordinary development of interest in the premier college sport and it has raised the game to the most popular American entertainment if attendance may be taken as a registration of popularity.

The inter-sectional competition this fall will be wider and more important than it ever has been.

Relations between the big eastern teams and the members of the powerful Western Conference teams have not been as intimate in the past as they might have been. Eastern teams look rather patronizingly on the middle-west and assumed the attitude that Western Conference teams should be willing to play them on their eastern home grounds without expecting the courtesy of a return call.

Alonzo A. Stagg, veteran Chicago coach, was the original champion of the inter-sectional idea for the promotion of better feelings and it was due to his influence perhaps that relations are becoming so much more friendly.

Several years ago western teams had to leave home and play in the east to convince the critics that they could play football. But now the east knows, without any evidence, that they know how to play football elsewhere.

With the exception of those old fixed classics, like the Yale-Harvard game, the Army-Yale game and the Army-Navy game, it is impossible to pick out the feature games on the schedule. Any feature game is but one of many features, depending largely upon sentiment and sectional locality.

Five years ago any radical critics would have ridiculed a prediction that in 1925 there would be found on the program such games as:

Chicago vs. Pennsylvania; Illinois vs. Pennsylvania; Chicago vs. Dartmouth; Columbia vs. Ohio State; Syracuse vs. Indiana and Navy vs. Michigan.

There are six games with six representative teams of the east against six strong teams of the Western Conference.

Then there have been scheduled again a number of inter-sectional games that have become established in the last three years, such as:

Notre Dame vs. the Army; Notre Dame vs. Georgia Tech; Notre Dame vs. Penn State; Penn State vs. Georgia Tech; Army vs. Detroit; Army vs. St. Louis and the Navy vs. Marquette.

Those in charge of college athletics do not like to hear that game receipts are big factors in the arrangement of modern schedules. It remains as a fact, nevertheless, that generous support is required to finance the big athletic plants that are springing up all over the country and that good teams have to be scheduled as drawing cards where there is so much competition in the thickly populated localities.

New football fields are to be opened this fall at Brown, Pittsburgh, West Virginia, Kentucky, Stanford, Georgia Tech and Dayton, among many more not of present memory.

O. CARTMEL DOWNS B. DUGAL

Further Matches in County Tennis Tourney to be Played Sunday

Oliver Cartmel easily defeated Burke Dugal Friday afternoon, in the second match played at the annual tennis tournament, which is in progress at Memorial park, after getting away to a bad start 6-2 and 6-2, and earned the right to meet the winner of the Tinsworth-Cross contest, which will come in the near future. This was the only match which was played off yesterday and Cartmel won after dropping the first two games of the first set, after which he took six straight games.

Today and Sunday will see many of the games played off, especially if the weather is favorable, as most of the players, who are employed during the week, will be able to compete. The court is in fine condition following the rains this week and some very interesting contests are on the schedule for the next two days.

GOOD BASEBALL WEATHER

New York, Aug. 22—A bright, cool day—perfect baseball weather—greeted the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Giants today and both teams were set to jump into the doubleheader that will open the most important five game series of the year.

To Those Interested in the Development of Rushville:

We are arranging to finance the building of a number of new homes to relieve housing conditions in Rushville and to care for the increase in population that is sure to come this year. Frankly, to do this and to serve Rushville as we have for 35 years.

For these we pay 6% on sums of $100.00 or over from the day that we receive them. We take no "long chances." Every loan is a unit. We never advance over 60% of cost on new property. And your money is protected in every way possible through exceedingly strong examinations through the State Banking Department.

This is the Only Investment that you can conveniently make where you can see where your money is being invested. All that you have to do is to examine the Mortgage Record in the County Recorder's Office, for we loan on first mortgage only.

THINK THAT OVER and then come to our office for further details.

Perspiration—Dust

The two worst enemies of your clothing. Perspiration makes the cloth decay and deteriorate in other ways. Dust grinds the fibres and a suit cannot long stand up under a combination of the two unless you take good care of it. It costs little and means so much in the wear and appearance of clothing to have them dry cleaned often.

SEVEN ACCIDENTAL DEATHS IN INDIANA

Man Knocked Under Wheels of Train by Driverless Auto—Penal Farm Prisoners Electrocutted

SWIMMER'S NECK IS BROKEN

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 22—(U.P.)—Seven accidental deaths during the past twenty-four hours were reported in Indiana today.

Henry Ilgenfritz, 58, was crushed to death beneath the wheels of a Wash-bash freight train at a crossing in Lafayette.

Ilgenfritz was standing on the sidewalk waiting for the train to pass when a driverless auto coasted down a steep hill, swerved to the sidewalk and knocked him under the train.

Earl Eiser, of Hendricks county and G. S. Parken, of Delaware county, prisoners at the state penal farm at Putnamville, were electrocuted when a cable they were holding swung against a high tension wire.

Frederick Albertson, 31, died at North Vernon from injuries received when he was struck by an auto on a road near there.

SIX MEN ARRESTED IN COUNTERFEITING PLOT

Chicago Postoffice Sends Warning to Postoffices and Banks About Spurious $20 Gold Certificates

PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON

Chicago, Aug. 22—(U.P.)—Six men have been arrested in connection with a $500,000 counterfeiting plot, federal authorities announced today.

Simultaneously the Chicago postoffice sent a warning out to postoffices and banks in middlewestern states against spurious $20 gold certificates, in which the counterfeit ring is said to have dealt.

Four men were arrested in Detroit, one in Rockford and one in Kenosha, the secret service men said. Their names were not revealed pending further investigation.

The counterfeit bills bear a portrait of George Washington and plate number C-656 above the name of Frank White on the right hand side of Washington's picture.

According to the postoffice warning the notes are good imitations of the real thing except that the lathe work round the border is blotchy.

Approximately 102,000 brick will be required and the brick selected is $20.00 a thousand, which was the price the estimate called for.

A light colored brick for interior work at the entrances was specified from the display of the Hydraulic Brick company, represented by Cyril Arbuckle of Indianapolis, former Rushville boy and graduate of the Rushville high school. This class of brick was priced at $29.00 a thousand and approximately 27,000 will be needed.

Seven brick companies were represented at the letting, some of them by more than one man, and prices of the thirty-six samples submitted ranged from $17.00 to $30.00 a thousand.

The surface brick is the same as that used in the Odd Fellows Temple that was lately completed.

The two boards were in session from one o'clock in the afternoon until 6:30 o'clock considering the contracts and hearing the brick salesmen. Will C. McGuire of the Indianapolis firm of McGuire and Shook, who are the architects, was in consultation with the boards during the letting.

It is believed that from the value to be gained from annexing, the property owners of Circleville would really be the ones to gain. The fire insurance rates would be lowered to comply with the rates in Rushville, and the city would have the upkeep and repair of the streets, such as oiling and other annual repairs.

The Rushville school city would also profit in the deal, and also the school children of Circleville, it was pointed out. It has been intimated that this year will be the last for the two room school building, and if abandoned the pupils will be transferred by the township to Webb.

If annexed, the pupils would attend the city schools, and share in the 9 months school, without any tuition cost, and the city schools would receive a higher rate as their share from the state on the ratio of the number of school children.
